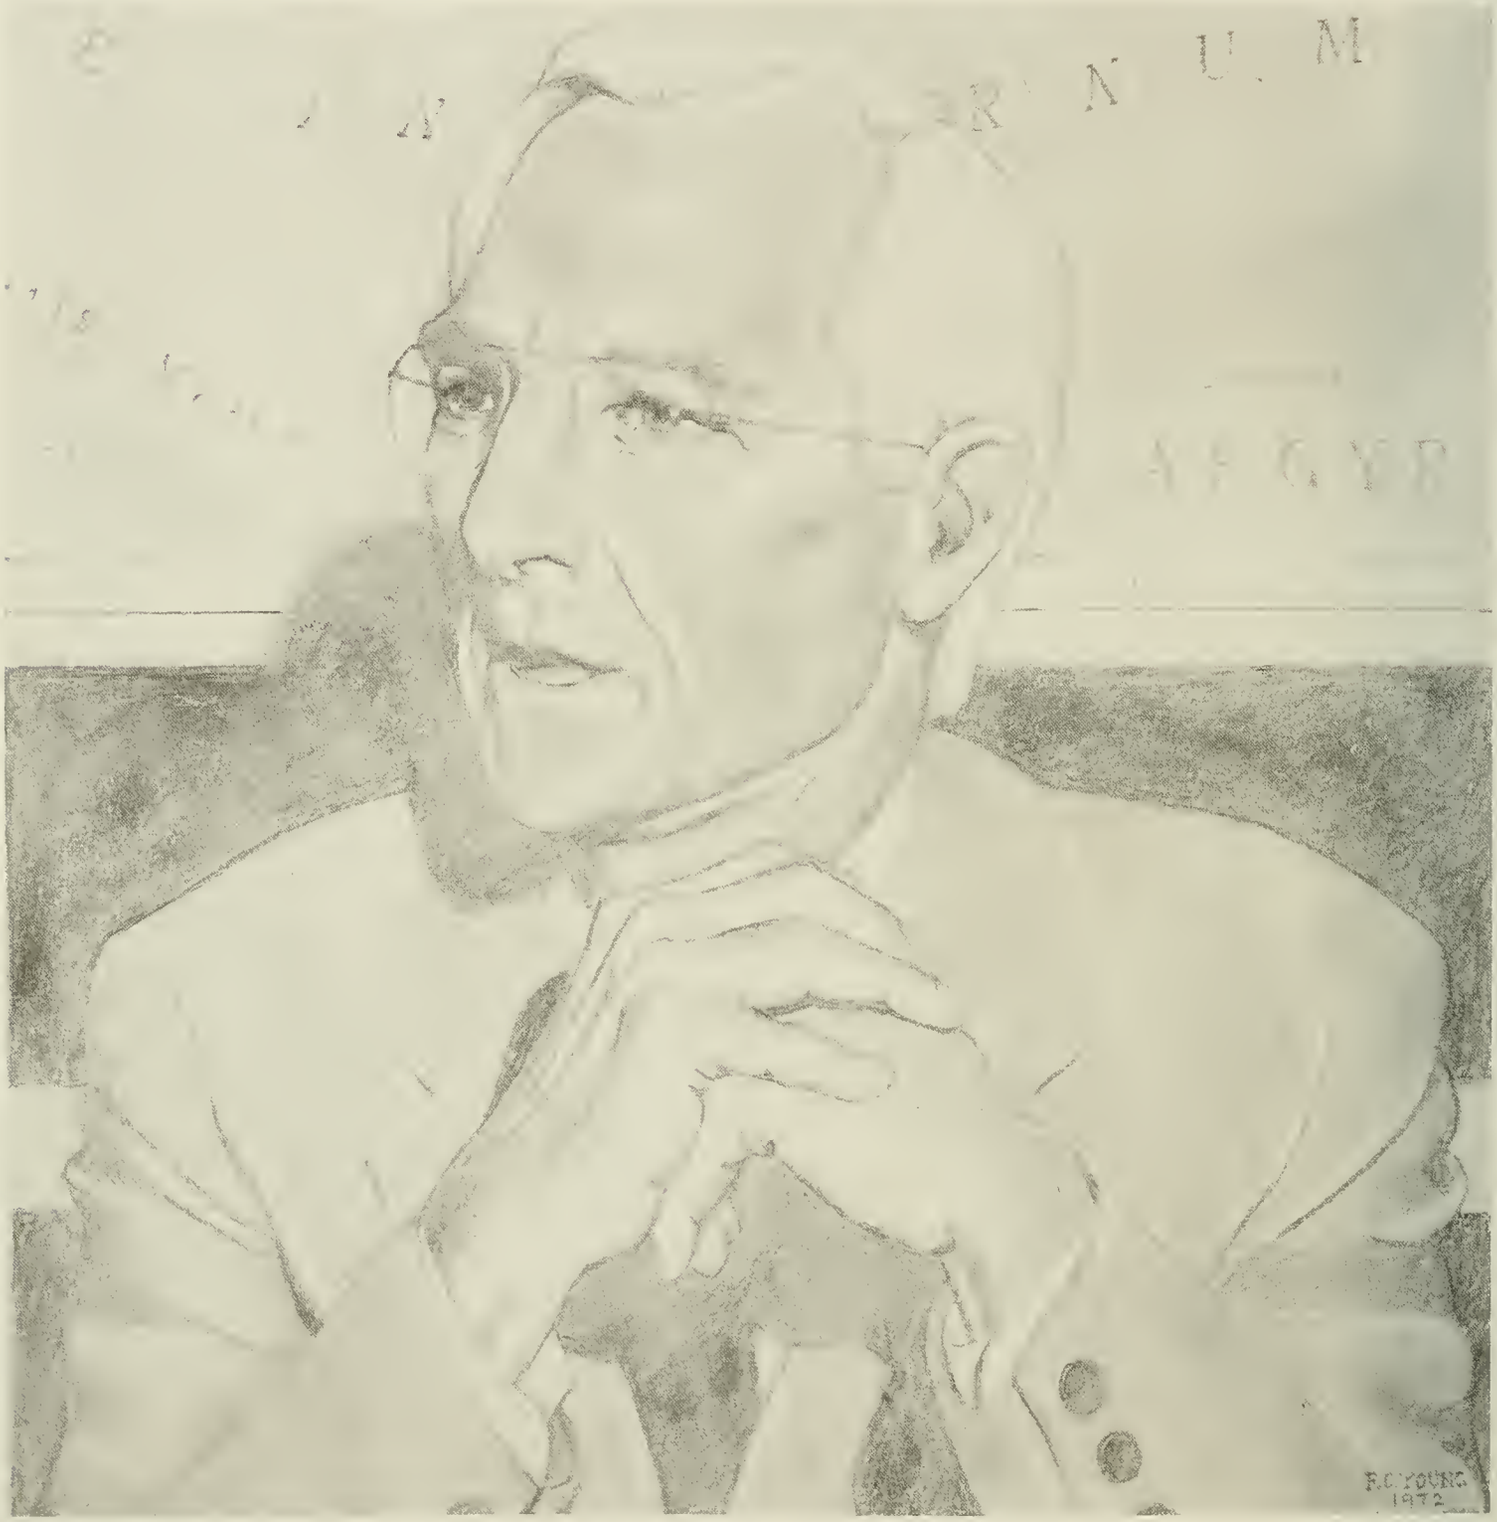
DEDICATION



For his dedication to the college, to his country and to God;
For his counsel and patience with professors and students;
For his aid in understanding the "eschatological yes to man's no" . . .
We who have seen him roar like a lion,
or like a Sunday-morning Baptist preacher
Do dedicate the 1974 Kaleidoscope to

DEDICATION

The Lord is my shepherd,
Ps. 23:1

But God commended his love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners,
Christ died for us.
Rom. 5:8

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."
John 10:10

. . . We must believe in the power of love. We must recognize that our being itself is grounded in love: that is to say that we come into being because we are loved and because we are meant to love others. The failure to believe this and to live accordingly creates instead a deep mistrust, a suspicion of others, a hatred of others, and a failure to love. When a man attempts to live by and for himself alone, he becomes a little "island" of hate, greed, suspicion, fear, desire. Then his whole outlook on life is falsified. All his judgements are affected by this untruth. In order to discover the true perspective, which is that of love, and compassion, he must once again learn, in simplicity, trust and peace, that "no man is an island."

THOMAS MERTON "On Peace"

Eph. 3:14-19.

We were brothers all
In honour, as in one community
Scholars and gentlemen.
WILLIAM WORDSWORTH

Mason-Dixon Championship

The Tigers pour onto the field.

The offense takes a break.

The 1973 Tiger football team captured another Mason-Dixon championship this year, finishing with a 7-3 record. Seventeen seniors completed their four-year careers with a total of 34 wins — 6 losses and 18 shutouts.

Tracy Powers rushed for 1004 yards.

Larry Bertram passed for 1052 yards.

The team consisted of over a hundred members, about one-seventh of the entire student body.

The Tigers handed Guilford its 26th straight loss. Beat Maryville.

Lost two close ones to Sewanee and Bridgewater.

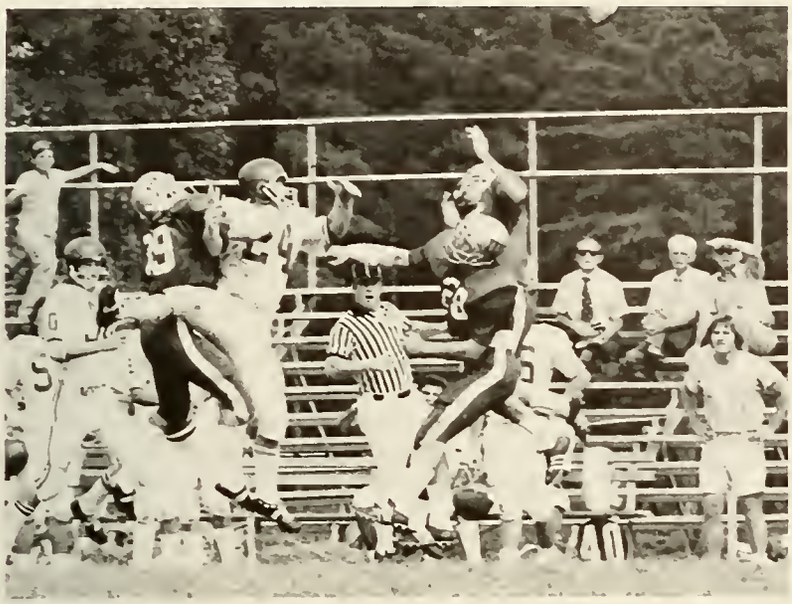
Swarmed into Lynchburg City Stadium to overwhelm Washington and Lee, 42-6. Somehow, the Defense seemed to know exactly which W&L back was going to run with the ball.

George Simons kicked a school-record 47-yard field goal against Western Maryland.

Fought a see-saw battle with Emory and Henry, only to lose in the final seconds on a controversial fumble in the E&H end zone. Their kick returns proved to be a thorn in the side the entire afternoon.

Excited a Parents and Friends Day Crowd with a final second victory over Towson State. Spectators swamped the field for several hours after the game had ended. Defeated Shepherd by one point, watching a last-ditch field goal go wide.

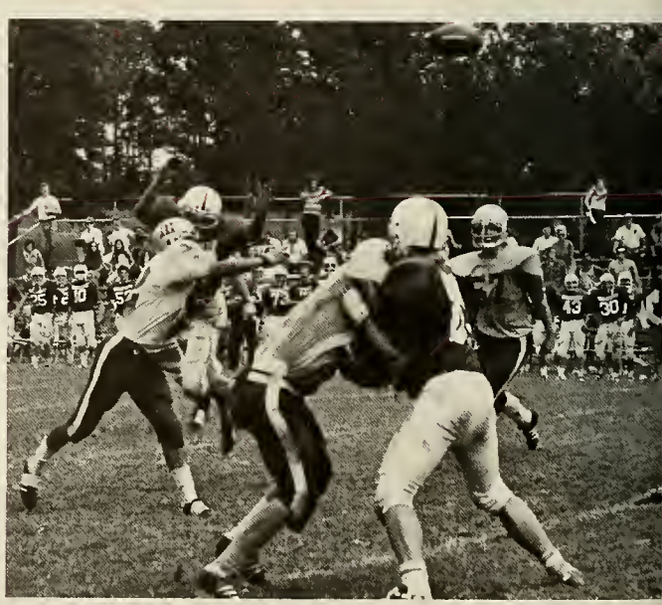
Shut out Randolph-Macon, 21-0, for the championship.



Rough treatment of a wide-receiver . . .

. . . as Junes and Coach Fulton watch the action.

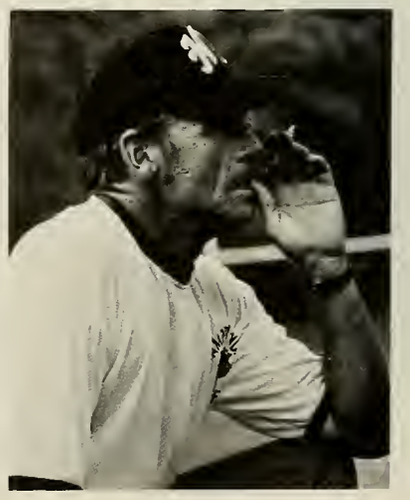
A large Homecoming crowd looked on in disbelief as the Tigers fumbled the football away time and time again to a fired-up Bridgewater team. Behind 13-3 at halftime, the team could only score once in the second half to lose 13-9.



Homecoming

Towson State

An explosive game from the very beginning. Towson State scored twice to go ahead, 14-0. Hampden-Sydney recovered to go ahead at the half, 21-20. By the end of the third quarter, the Tigers had stretched the lead to eleven, 31-20, as Powers scored his second touchdown of the day. Towson State quickly came back to go ahead 34-31. That was the score with two-seconds showing on the clock. Donny Cournow threw a swing pass to Todd Young, who managed to lateral to Mike Thompson, just as he was tackled. Thompson sprinted the rest of the distance to the goal to win the game, 37-34.



Remember that final play?

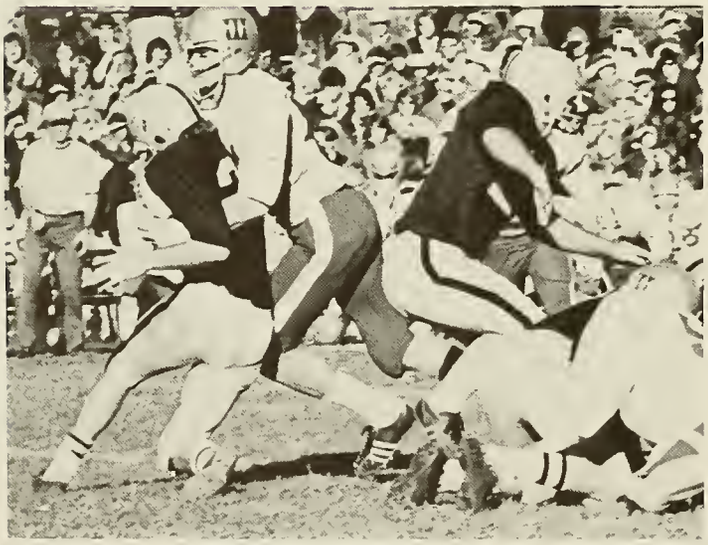
. . . . . TOUCHDOWN!!

Macon



The stubborn defense and the powerhouse offense of the Tigers mauled Randolph-Macon, 21-0, at Macon. They held the losers to only 47 yeards on the ground and only 70 yards through the air. Touchdowns were scored by Thompson, Powers and Charlie Burgess. One of the H-SC alumni remarked that perhaps R-MC's team had also gone coed. Holding to form, H-SC also won the Blood Drive competition, proving that the Tigers were more out for blood than the Yellow-Jackets.

PARKING

This assigned zone parking/traffic plan has been developed because of the increasing concern about pollution, the need to conserve energy, the desire to maintain the natural beauty of the campus, and the recognition that the elimination of unnecessary intra-campus driving will help restore the desirable ambience that comes with foot and bicycle traffic. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to walk and ride bicycles rather than to utilize motor vehicles.

IMPRESSIONS

"When I was young
And they packed me off to school
and they taught me how not to play the game.
I didn't mind if they groomed me for success
Or if they said that I was just a fool.
So I left there in the morning
with their God tucked underneath my arm
Their smiles
And the book of rules."

Ian Anderson "Windup"

Four years in any one place leaves an impression. The impression with which I leave Hampden-Sydney is one of hidden potential. The college is on the verge of being outdated. The four year program that was effective in the 1950's and 1960's no longer proves to be effective. The student consciousness in 1974 is not the type that the program is geared for. Today's student does not have the same needs and interests that the college attempts to satisfy and this results in meciocrity. The professor in the classroom is not stimulating his students and there is a very little intellectual motivation. Academia has regressed into performing the required amount in order to obtain the desired grade. The meaning of the subject matter has been lost to the stigma of the grade. There seems to be an abundance of laxity in the academic community on the part of students as well as faculty members. If the student has no desire to learn, the professor's role is reduced to a monitor and a grader. This is Hampden-Sydney's greatest tragedy.

In order for the student to be stimulated by the curriculum, the intellectual atmosphere must be improved. The professor must be stimulated with the desire to broaden the scope of his students' awareness. If the professor enthusiastically asserts himself, the student will be more inclined to remain open to new ideas. There must be an exchange between the two stations before any educational process can occur. I see very little of this exchange at the present. The techniques of instruction must be altered to inspire the maximum amount of interest in the classroom. The present faculty members have the ability, but do they have the motivation? It remains very easy to re-read the same lectures year after year in an ivy-covered building removed from the pressures and demands of modern society. A professor has the unique position of never knowing when his influence will cease and how his thinking will be put into action.

Is the Hampden-Sydney student being prepared for a responsible life? Is the new alumnus confident of his ability to reason and to cope with the problems that will face him? The college today produces a special type of person, a person ready to enter his social niche and join the local country club. This should not be the purpose of Hampden-Sydney. The college has the responsibility of opening its students' eyes to new ideas and to new values and methods of thinking. This responsibility can not be taken lightly because the institution is the most dominant force in the most important stage of its students' lives. This is the time of mental growth and awareness, and it must be met and satisfied in the classroom. If the college fails to stimulate the student in this period, the very purpose of the institution has been lost.

The policies of the college must be reviewed and re-evaluated continually if they are to reflect the ever-changing needs of its students and faculty members. The present administration does not realize the importance of student needs and requests. Students desire to affect change in policy in order to reflect their needs and interests and to improve the college. The dogmatic and unilateral policy that the administration employs is frightfully outmoded. There is an abundance of fear of change — change in any direction. There is a fear of new policy and if this attitude remains, no change in policy will be possible. Officials of the college refuse to be receptive to innovation and progress. Personal complacency and self-interest seem to be uppermost in priority in some offices in Atkinson Hall. The only vehichle by which the administration will implement change is that of pressure and conflict. If the present administration's attitude does not change, the only way the college can survive is with a new administration. The top offices in the college are being pushed in the third century, they are not rushing out into it with any sense of direction.

Hampden-Sydney is fast becoming a mediocre institution of higher education, this is a proven fact. The crutch of past tradition and previous excellence can no longer be referred to. Society does not judge the college on past perfection but on its present mediocrity. The term potential is not obsolete. There must be an improvement in the personal integrity of all who associate with the college and of all who seek excellence in education. The sleepy college must open its eyes to the world and become receptive to its pressures and demands.

My impressions of Hampdey-Sydney are mixed for my eyes have been opened. The only regret I have now is that the college has much more which it can not find the means to offer. Only the passing of time will determine whether Hampden-Sydney will remain in mediocrity or achieve its hidden excellence.

"Through with great difficulty I am got hither, yet now I do not repent me of all the troubles I have been at to arrive at where I am. My sword I give to him that shall succeed me in my pilgrimage, and my courage and skill to him that can get it. My marks and scars I carry with me, to be witness for me, that I have fought His battles who now will be my rewarder."

JOHN BUNYAN, Pilgrim's Progress

THE BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

For the last two years, HSC has been commemorating her bicentennial along with the nation. So far, it has been an interesting and enjoyable celebration. The school has been visited by some of the best minds in medicine, economics, and government. Unfortunately, something seems to be lacking during this occasion. There is little interest in the programs, and attendance has been less than many had hoped. Instead a survey of opinion within the school would find that most have written off the entire program as a Park Avenue plan to build up the school's faltering image with wealthy perspective contributors. I believe what the program has lacked is a commitment from the community within the college to the basic tenets of our revolutionary heritage. We have failed to understand that maintaining a free and democratic society is a battle that never rests. Instead we have been satisfied to celebrate an earlier revolution and have not commited ourselves to the fulfillment of the hopes and goals of that first revolution. We have failed to remember the words of Benjamin Rush when he told us in 1787 that > "The American war is over but that is far from the case with the American Revolution. On the contrary, nothing but the first act of the great drama is closed."

If we are to rededicate ourselves to the dreams of that Glorious Revolution, we must first attempt to understand the basic tenets of our revolutionary heritage and what has become of those beliefs in our country today. We must do more than bring in speakers that will inform us of different movements in their fields or their latest books. We must instead establish programs within the school to reexamine earlier dreams in light of the realities of the complex corporate state. We must start our examination with a study of the institutions that govern our lives: economic, social, and political. Our study would start with the examination of their powers, their use of power and their right to power. While several speakers have mentioned this topic, we should attempt to move the Bicentennial program from Johns to the classrooms. More can be done in the classroom to discuss the constant perils of freedom and democracy with the complex world.

We could also be doing more to fulfill the American dream of equal opportunity within the society. We could accomplish this in two ways. First, we must seek to use our available financial resources to attract and assist disadvantaged minority students within the society to obtain a good education. We should also be using our resources, financial and educational, to further insure that the primary and secondary education system in the county guarrantees equal education opportunity for both black and white, rich and poor.

Second, we should also recognize the new role of women in the society. Women have long been freed from the sole occupation of homemaker-housewife. They deserve the best education possible. Forbidding women to enter the college was understandable in 1776 when women were commonly acknowledge to be inferior to man, but, fortunately our conception of women has changed. HSC must keep pace for as Thomas Jefferson reminds us . . .

> "Institutions must go hand in hand with progress of the human mind. As that becomes more developed, more enlightened as new discoveries are made, new truths disclosed and manner and opinion change with the change of circumstances, institutions must also advance. We might as well require the man to wear the coat still fitted him when a boy as civilized society to remain ever under the regimen of their barbarous ancestors."

Sexual discrimination, as racial and religious discrimination, must be stopped.

The future of our bicentennial should not be one of a complacent birthday of the revolution in 1776. How unfair it would be to our forefathers if we merely celebrated their deeds done so long ago and did not reach to fulfill their visions of a democratic society. If this is the path we pick, our journey will not be an easy one but rather as Josiah Quincy forewarned us, "Trials and conflicts you therefore endure. Such is the fate of all noble exertions for public liberty and social happiness."

Michael Knute Crookshank '74

YES, H-SC is a community
and a community within many other communities:
the small college community
suffering under a financial squeeze
choosing among the issues of higher tuition, alumni solicitation, and coeducation.
the state of Virginia community
the nation of United States community
concerned over such issues as impeachment proceedings,
isolationism, oil distribution and prices, the death penalty, etc.
and the spaceship earth community
concerned with such issues as global nuclear war, overpopulation, pollution, waste of non-renewable resources, arms reductions and detente, the price of gold and world wide inflation, etc.

Word is unspoken, unheard;
Still is the unspoken word, the Word unheard,
The Word within a word, the Word within
The world and for the world;
And the light shone in darkness and
Against the Word the unstilled world still whirled
About the centre of the silent Word.

Jn. 11:25-6

No man is an Island, entire of it self . . . Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankind; And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; It tolls for thee.

John Donne Devotions
